

Ariana Heinzman
STACK. LOOP. SHIFT.

January 9 - February 11 | Rockport Center for the Arts

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Ariana Heinzman was born in Cincinnati, Ohio and currently lives and works on Vashon Island in Washington. Her work represents the dueling desires of succumbing to nature and controlling it. She creates functional objects, sculpture, and tiles that blend floral imagery, utilitarian vessels, and the body. Heinzman received her BFA in Ceramics from the Rhode Island School of Design in 2013. She has exhibited at the Vashon Center for the Arts and Pottery Northwest and has work in the Seattle University Collection. Heinzman was featured in The Seattle Times and as an Emerging Artist in Ceramics Monthly Magazine and published in Pottery Making Illustrated in 2021. Heinzman lives and works on Vashon Island in Washington and is currently represented by J.Rinehart Gallery in Seattle Washington.

“Stack. Loop. Shift. like the title suggests is focused on actions and instincts. Using an alphabet of patterns, forms, color, and material, I react to the things in front of me. This process often leads me to stack things, loop things together, or to make a shift in the pattern.”
